Â«Â»This message has been editedÂ«Â» by agustin. Y.1999). Although this Court is cognizant of the DOE's efforts to produce the information as promptly as possible, the four-year delay in the filing of this motion undercuts the plaintiffs' argument that it would be costly and wasteful of resources to require a more prompt filing. *24 C. The Plaintiffs Are Not Entitled to the Relief Sought 1. The Court Has Authority to Compel Production of Documents The Department contends that this Court does not have authority to compel production of documents pursuant to Rule 37(a)(2). The plaintiffs counter that the Court has authority to issue an order requiring production of documents for purposes of Rule 37(a)(2) pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(b)(2), which provides, in relevant part, that "[p]arties may obtain discovery of documents and tangible things otherwise discoverable... and prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial by or for another party or by or for that other party's representative (including the other party's attorney, consultant, surety, indemnitor, insurer, or agent) only upon a showing that the party seeking discovery has substantial need of the materials in the preparation of the party's case and that the party is unable without undue hardship to obtain the substantial equivalent of the materials by other means." Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(b)(2). Under Rule 37(a)(2), "[c]ompliance with this rule is mandatory." Id. (emphasis added). The Court finds it unnecessary to reach the question 648931e174
